Real Estate

For the past year we have handled no City property to speak of, dealing almost entirely in farm lands; but of late we have had such a heavy demand for City property that we have decided to open up a City Branch. Notwithstanding many predictions to the contrary, we feel that there will be a heavy movement in real estate this spring and summer, therefore will please ask all those who have any kind of City property for sale to kindly call on us at an early date and leave with us a full description of same. We do not ask exclusive agency for your property unless you desire to give it. Do not lay this aside and forget about it, but give the matter your immediate attention.

In our land department we have some very desirable cheap lands for sale at prices ranging from $3.50 to $20.00 per acre. This land is an excellent investment, as it is rapidly increasing in value. If you have a piece of City or town property that you think has about reached its limit in increase in value call and tell us about it. Perhaps we can exchange it for a nice piece of cheap land that is increasing very fast. We also have some good farm land to exchange for stocks of merchandise, etc. Tell us your wants; we will supply them. We also write Fire Insurance.

EXPRESS COMPANIES OBJECT

Insist Reduction in Rates Would Cause Them to Lose Money.

GREAT SHOWING OF POVERTY

Accountant Does Not Like the Way the Cash Fund is Handled at the Hastings Asylum for the Insane.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, March 16.—(Special.)—The application of the attorney general for an injunction against the express companies doing business in Nebraska to compel them to obey the provisions of the Sibley law pending the final disposition of the case will be heard in the supreme court tomorrow. This application followed the recent decision of the court that the legal department had a right to apply to the courts for the enforcement of the Sibley act. The original suit against the express companies was filed July 5, at which time the Sibley law went into effect. The Sibley law provided that the express companies had thirty days after the passage and approval of the act in which to file their schedules of rates, and the express companies held that this gave them until August 5 to comply with the law. The decision of the court was to the effect that the law became operative July 5. After the suit had been filed by the legal department the express companies transferred it to the federal court. Here they asked for an injunction against the railway commission and the attorney general, and the application was rejected and the case transferred back to the state court and an opinion handed down as referred to.

Answers of Companies.

Following is the substance of the answers filed:
The defendants aver that the state of Nebraska, in its sovereign capacity, has no power or authority under the constitution and laws of the state to maintain this suit. The defendants deny that they had any purpose on July 5, or before that date, or since to disobey the Sibley act in either its letter or its spirit. That prior to July 5 in conference with the several express companies decided to obey the act and put in force the schedule of rates as its terms unless a court of competent jurisdiction should determine that the rates were unreasonable and therefore invalid. Subsequent to this conference counsel for the several companies agreed among themselves to advise their clients and did advise them to put into force and effect the schedules of rates provided unless a court of competent jurisdiction should determine that the rates were confiscatory. To that end the defendants, believing that they were not bound by the terms of said act to put into effect the schedule of rates until the expiration of thirty days designated by the act, which they were obliged to file with the railway commission, the rates in effect on January 1, did institute in the circuit court of the United States a suit in equity against the railway commission and the attorney general. It is charged in this suit that the rates were confiscatory and a temporary injunction was asked for against the enforcement of the act.

How I Made $50,000 for One Man in 50 Days

Fifty days ago I leased my rights to New York, Pennsylvania and the six New England States to Mr. Arthur Vernon. His interests in the company he has since organized and to whom he turned over his lease, are now worth, on the open market, at the price the stock in his company is selling daily, over $50,000. He says he could not be prided loose from what he got from me for twice that sum.

If you want to know all about the Car-Sign business, write me and I will send you a booklet telling the whole story. Yours very sincerely,

Senator Epperson for Two Sessions

Senator Epperson for two sessions was one of the leaders of the senate, occupying the most important committee places and he was recognized as one of the stalwart platform defenders in the last election.
Byram for Land Commissioner.
It was reported today that Deputy Land Commissioner Shively would have opposition in his race for Land Commissioner Eaton's shoes. The man in the case is said to be Representative Byram of Burt county. One visitor to the state convention said he heard Byram remark that he had not heard of his contemplated move for the office of land commissioner, but a visitor here today said he had been assured by some of Byram's friends that he would shortly get into the game. Two more men are grooming themselves to enter the race for state auditor, their decision to do so depending upon whether there will be an application to prevent so many deputies from succeeding their chiefs.
Officer Waits for Baker.
Application has been made to Governor Sheldon to honor a requisition for the return to Kansas of George Baker, who will be released from the penitentiary tomorrow. He was sentenced to the Nebraska prison for three years October 17, 1905, and his time is now out. He is wanted in Kansas on a charge of stealing a wagon and team, which incidentally was the same charge upon which he was convicted in Nebraska. The Kansas officer will be on hand tomorrow to take charge of him when he is released.
Lorton Files Complaint.
A petition has been filed with the State Railway commission by a number of citizens of Lorton protesting against the closing of the telegraph office at that place. The protest does not say whether some railroad or some telegraph company closed the office, but it does say the action has resulted in considerable trouble for shippers, as they have to write for cars instead of telegraphing for them, causing more delay.

Omaha Road Answers.

The Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha railroad has filed its answer with the railway commission in the matter of the general rate hearing set to begin on March 24. This road says if rates are reduced it will lose money on its Nebraska business.
Freight Service Restored.
Numerous letters are being received by the railway commission to the effect that the Union Pacific is putting back its freight trains on the branch lines and there is corresponding joy at the various towns affected.
Assessment on Insurance Stockholders.
